Surveying the room, you contemplate how you can take a more active role in the course of the election. Time is growing short, and no one holds a clear advantage. Perhaps putting the right words into the right ears can tilt things in your favor?

- I want to make some pointed inquiries about Malloy's dominus; if he was executed for heresy, can we be so sure of his offspring?
- I ask pointed questions about Lesczynski's interest in the history of Memphis...and its founding by Andrew Jackson.
- I begin to ask uncomfortable questions about Pickering's association with Albert Pike, the reknowned Freemason.
- I wonder aloud about the overt prejudices of Pickering.
- I begin relating the tale of Jesse and Samantha, in the hopes of discrediting Jesse.
